Beardless Presidents.

From the New York Sun:

When Roosevelt is inaugurated on March 4, 1905, he will be the second president with a mustache. Cleveland was the first.

Whatever the presidency of this country has done to the incumbents, it has not been productive of beards.

The first four chief executives were as clean shaven as Benedictine friars. J. Q. Adams was the first to break the rule, but he was not a full bearded president. His facial growth of hair steadily came up to what are usually termed side whiskers, but they are a trifle more expansive than the Scotch Presbyterian type.

When he retired the beardless president came in again with Jackson, but his successor, Van Buren, brought to the White House an exact pattern of the whiskers grown by J. Q. Adams.

William Henry Harris again set the beardless face. The seven who came after were clean shaven.

When Mr. Lincoln was elected there was not a hair on his face, but before he finished his first term he wore a sparse beard, with clean shaven upper lip. One of the authenticated stories is that he did it to please a child.

Grant was the first president with a full short beard. His immediate successor, Hayes, was the first to wear full, long whiskers, covering his shirt front. Garfield also wore a full beard, but it was less luxurious than that of Hayes.

Arthur, who was the most correct dresser of all of the presidents, was the first in the list to grow the Burnside type of whiskers.

Benjamin Harrison's beard was full with a slight tendency to curl at the end, and was tinged with gray.

After Cleveland the clean shaven face returned with McKinley. The mustache came in for the second time when Roosevelt succeeded.

Most of the presidents were bountifully supplied with hair on top of their heads. The two Adamses were the first to show a slight tendency of baldness.

Van Buren was bald on the forehead. Garfield was similarly marked.

Polk was the first and only president who wore his hair in the ante bellum Southern style. It was long and reached back from the front, over the ears. Buchanan was the first and only one, so far to wear the top roach.

Cleveland in returning to his second administration showed a tendency to baldness. McKinley was not noticeably blessed with a heavy growth.

But no baldheaded man, as the term is understood, has yet been president of the United States.

CURED PARALYSIS.

W. S. Bailey, P. O. True, Texas, writes: "My wife had been suffering five years with paralysis in her arm, when I was persuaded to use Ballard's Snow Liniment, which cured her all right. I have also used it for old sores, frostbites and skin eruptions. It does the work." 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold by Crenshaw & Young Druggists. -12-3m

The latest story about George Ade relates to the time when he was just coming into rewards for his literary efforts somewhat greater than those he had been accustomed to as a newspaper man in Chicago. Not knowing what to do with the considerable sum of money he was receiving from royalties on his fables and other writings he sent part of the income to his father in Indiana for investment. The senior Ade did not marvel much at the first remittance, for he had always considered George a frugal boy and one likely to lay by something for the moisture. But when thousand-dollar drafts began to arrive every two or three weeks he grew anxious and in the end suspicious. One day he could stand the strain no longer, so he packed his valise and started for Chicago, saying gloomily as he departed: "Something must be wrong with George. He can't be making all this money honestly. I'm afraid he's gambling."

The Weather Calendar.

The Chattanooga Medicine Co., the manufacturers of Wine of Cardui and Treadwell's Black Draught, have just issued the 1905 edition of their Cardui Weather Chart and Calendar. This calendar with its 13 sheets 18x20 inches in size makes a bright ornament for the wall and is a useful acquire for in any home or office on account of its displayed weather predictions. The prominent numbers can be read across a large room as can the colored signal flags showing the weather conditions for each day. These weather signals illustrate the forecasts of Prof. Andrew J. DeVoe who achieved great prominence by his accurate predictions of the great Galveston, St. Louis and Minnesota storms and cyclones. So great is the popularity of these predictions that they are printed in 2,500,000 of these calendars and in 18,000,000 of the Ladies' Birthday Almanacs, which are issued by the Chattanooga Medicine Co. each year. We understand that a copy of this weather chart and calendar may be secured by sending 10 cents in stamps to the Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn. Any of our readers who have not secured a copy of the Ladies' Birthday Almanac can get one by sending their address to "Ladies' Birthday Almanac," Chattanooga, Tenn., or by calling on their druggist.

WANT SCHOOL FOR SERVANT

In London Agitation Is Being Started for Establishing Such an Institution.

It is a significant fact that though there are, according to the last census, considerable over 200,000 domestic employees in the metropolitan area, there is not in the whole of the elaborate and costly system of educational training which the London (Eng.) county council has under its control a single school or even class for training young girls for domestic service.

Let a maiden aspire to be a typewriter, a clerk, a dressmaker or a music teacher and a hundred doors are eagerly opened to her. She is not only free to enter, but she is implored to come in, and in order that she may find things quite pleasant nice little dances and evening parties are arranged for her benefit.

Good domestic service is not only the healthiest occupation that a girl of humble parents can adopt, but it is the best paid. Compare the position of a girl who goes to a city office or teashop every day and that of a maid in a suburban household. One gets possibly $5 or $6 a week and has to find herself in everything and to defray the cost of getting to and from her business in addition.

So far as real independence is concerned there is no sort of comparison between "the young lady" who is at the beck and call of an irascible superintendent in a place of business and a housemaid who gets out once on Sunday and one evening a week and has an entire day of every month, with a fortnight's holiday in the summer. Whatever it may once have been, domestic service is to-day the most lucrative and certain of all forms of female employment. To ignore it, as our technical training system practically does, is to accentuate the mischievous, vulgar prejudices which set the workman against home employment for his daughters as slavish and derogatory to their independence.

GOOD YEAR FOR INDUSTRY

Never Such a Season as This for Raising the Attar of Roses in Bulgaria.

According to the commercial statistics there has not been so good a year as 1903 for the production of attar of roses in Bulgaria for 30 years. It is calculated that 13,770 pounds of this oil of roses were obtained, says World's Work.

The distillers employ chiefly the damask rose, which blooms in the month of May. It is a somewhat delicate plant and a frost will destroy the whole crop. The rose bushes are grown in tall thickets, seven feet apart. In the month of October some of the leafy branches of the old rose bushes are laid horizontally in ditches about 12 inches in width and depth, and covered with good soil. In 18 months' time these young shrubs come into flower. The crop is gathered in between May 20 and June 15, an acre producing 3,300 pounds of roses. The pickers gather the flowers while they are in bud. These are then put into copper stills, cone-shaped with neck for filling, and the stills are placed upon furnaces of masonry. Twenty-two pounds of roses and nineteen gallons of water are placed in each still, and the furnace is then lighted. The temperature is gradually reduced when the water begins to boil. After an hour or an hour and a half, about 12 quarts of liquid are taken away, and there is a second distillation for extracting from the rose water the oil it contains.

Signs Among Women.

The Japanese women have certain methods of arranging their hair whereby a person can tell at once whether any woman whom he sees is a maiden who desires to get married, or a widow who is inconsolable or one who is willing to be consoled if the proper suitor presents himself. The young girls arrange the hair in front in the form of a fan or butterfly, and adorn it with silver or colored ornaments. Widows who are looking for second husbands fasten their hair at the back of the head by means of tortoise-shell pins, and widows who are resolved to remain forever faithful to their departed spouses cut their hair short and wear no ornaments in it.

Are You Looking Ahead?

To the man looking ahead the Southwest has an urgent invitation. The opportunity is now when investment chances are good and losses can be purchased at from one-half to one-half the prices asked in the North and East.

To the Homeseeker.

Through the M. H. & T. Land Bureau, thousands of acres of rich farm lands (improved and unimproved), located along the line of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas R.R. in Missouri, Kansas, Indian Territory, Oklahoma and Texas, are now offered for sale. The lands are especially adapted to the growth of corn, wheat, oats, fruits, vegetables, rice, cotton, sugar cane and for stock raising. The lands are well located as to markets, schools, etc.

To the Investor.

All over the Southwest, cities and towns are growing up, expanding, requiring more, demanding more, people by the score, pushing, wide-awake citizens, who see the virtue of encouraging enterprises of every kind, the needfulness of getting more and better facilities, and more hands to develop the country. The oil and gas fields of Kansas, Indian Territory and Oklahoma are practically new and offer wonderful opportunities for development along commercial lines.

BRIEFLY THE CONDITION IS THIS:

The Southwest is really in need of nothing save people. More men are wanted. In the Southwest are vast areas of unimproved land—and not yielding the crops of which it is capable. The same thing, in a different way, is true of the towns. Few lines of business are adequately represented. There are openings all sorts—for mills and manufacturing plants, for small stores of all kinds, for banks, newspapers and lumber yards. Mechanics and professional men, both are in demand.

We are in possession of all sorts of information valuable alike to the investor and homeseeker. If you are interested, tell us what you want, how much you have to invest, and we will gladly furnish the information. Write today for a copy of our book "Business Chances." It's free. Address
